Sunway students get WMU scholarships

SUNWAY College students Ho Ming Sze, Aaron Lim and Sudhakaran Sundarakrishnan received scholarship awards worth US$750 (RM2,850) each from Western Michigan University (WMU) recently.

The scholarships were presented at a convocation-cum-end of semester party held at the college. The occasion was also a farewell party for about 25 students who will transfer to WMU's Kalamazoo campus next month.

New Scholar Awards were also presented to Belinda Jane Loh, Chin Yee Hong and Lau Tieng Yee, each of whom received a Certificate of Achievement. The awards were presented by Prof Richard Phippen, resident director of the WMU twinning programme now in its 15th year. So far 1,500 students have graduated from the programme.

At another ceremony held at the college, A-level student Pamela Wu Wern Loo received the Outstanding Student Award from Prof William Brown, co-ordinator for Electrical and Computer Systems Engineering at Monash University Malaysia.

Pamela was chosen based on her academic excellence, leadership qualities and participation in extra-curricular activities. She also bagged two Subject Awards for Physics and Biology.

The other subject winners were Eric Chua Chee Kiong (Accounting and Economics), Immanuel Anand Jegan (Mathematics), Sheena Shubash (General Paper), Yap Ee Peng (Chemistry) and Koo Jie Nie (Law).
