The challenge to produce leaders for tomorrow

Sunway takes pride in moulding, training students

By R.V. Veera

The foremost reason why students choose Sunway College when they are looking for a place for further education is that, at Sunway College, the student's learning status, personal development, maturity and ultimate future are of utmost concern of the college.

Sunway College sees this as a challenge and an opportunity to develop responsible leaders for the future.

Mindful of the fact that the younger generation of today will eventually become the leaders of tomorrow, Sunway College strives to provide the very best in terms of education and facilities.

"We have a large electronic library for our students who are encouraged to apply both traditional and electronic methods to their research. We subscribe to journals electronically and we believe this is a very important resource for the students," said Elizabeth Lee, the principal.

"We also have a specific Student Services Department with six full-time student counsellors and a full-time sports officer, to cater for the overall development of the students."

There are more than 35 different clubs and societies for the students. "Twice a year we organise a Clubs and Societies Induction Day, in which the different societies can showcase what they have done for that part of the year," Lee said.

Sunway College also rewards its students who excel in their studies and in the extra-curricular activities. Lee said the college also conducts workshops on leadership and development, study skills, time management and career guidance.

To meet the individual and specific needs of each student, Sunway College offers an extensive range of international-accredited pre-university programmes, professional, financial and language courses, and twinning/link programmes.

The pre-university programmes are Cambridge Board's GCE A-level, the Canadian International Matriculation Programme, the Australian Matriculation Programme and the Monash University Foundation Year programme.

Students can then opt to continue their studies in Australia, the US, UK, Canada, New Zealand or other countries.

The other option is to take up any of the twinning programmes offered at Sunway College.

Sunway prides itself for the significant academic programmes it offers. Its wide range of twinning programmes has opened doors to greater educational opportunities for young Malaysians.

It offers twinning/link degree programmes with Victoria University of Technology (VicUni) and the University of Melbourne in Australia; US's Western Michigan University and Johnson & Wales University; the University of Greenwich, Oxford Brookes University, London Guildhall University and Queen Margaret University College in the UK and the University of New Brunswick in Canada.

The professional and financial courses offered at the College include the Association of Business Executives (ABE), the London Chamber of Commerce and Industry (LCCI), the Chartered Institute of Marketing (CIM), the National Computing Centre (NCC), the School of Hospitality and Tourism Management and the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA) qualifications.
