Two Sunway College students have received conditional offers for admission into leading foreign universities even before they have sat for the A-level examinations.

They are Siow Hui Ling and Eugene Oon Soo Kai who the foreign universities have evaluated as students with potential.

Siow plans to further her studies in Economics at the prestigious University of Cambridge or the London School of Economics.

Asked why she chose to do her A-level at Sunway College, she said: “The college is easily accessible and has a wide choice of subjects.”

Her coursemate Oon has received conditional offers and possible exemption for first and second year degree courses from Heriot-Watt University and Kent University.

He plans to pursue his studies in Actuarial Mathematics and Statistics.

Siow and Oon were interviewed by the University of Cambridge’s Senior Admissions tutor Dr Kelvin Bowkett who was here recently to meet students applying for admission to the university. Also present was Sunway College’s principal Elizabeth Lee.

Another group of A-level students also did the college proud by scoring 4As in the November 1997 examinations. They are Jasmine Ling Pi Hsia, Lim Chuan Woei and Tan Kar Tean who scored As in Chemistry, Further Mathematics, Mathematics and Physics.

Ling was also chosen to further her tertiary studies at the University of Cambridge, UK.

“Our philosophy is to produce well-rounded individuals who not only excel in their studies but also develop a sound understanding of the world around them,” Sunway College’s A-level programme director Mrs Hor Poh Choo said.

Sunway also keeps parents of students well-informed of the progress of their children by sending out academic progress reports to them on a regular basis.

The college also organises “Parents Day” once every six months to enable them to speak to the lecturers on their children’s performance.

The next intake for the A-level programme is in July. Examinations are held every June and November.
